"PLEASE, JUST BEAR WITH ME FOR A FEW MINUTES"

When Shirley Osle retired, after decades working for the Town of Plainville as our assistant Town Manager, she looked forward to relaxing with her children, traveling and just enjoying the quiet life with friends. The stress of having to confront hostile people and situations she had to face daily would be gone, or so she thought A few days ago, after Shirley came home from a shopping trip she pulled into her garage, parked her car and carried in her purchases. As she went about putting her things away she heard a loud crash in her garage. As she opened the door to the garage she came face to face with two full grown bears.

She quickly shut the door and luckily a neighbor had seen not just two bears but five in Shirley's yard. The quick thinking woman got in her car and pulled into Shirley's driveway, honking the horn until the bears decided to move on down the road.

Maybe Shirley never opened her office door and had to confront bears but she did have to confront some mighty unruly residents at a few town meetings.

MICHAEL PAULHUS, TOWN MANAGER'S REPORT TO TOWN COUNCIL MAY 1, 2023 & MAY 15, 2023

Town Council Meeting May 1, 2023 Town Manager Report

Middle School of Plainville Update

- At the previous Town Council meeting, the members discussed holding a work session to explore the development of an RFP for an outside consultant to look at a third option for the closure of MSP and/or consolidation.
- The question on the authority to close a school was also raised and whether it is a BOE decision or Town Council decision.
- The BOE Superintendent sought a legal opinion from their counsel (Tom Mooney) and found he has a conflict with the town. In order to proceed in getting a legal opinion from Attorney Mooney, the BOE needs a waiver from the Town Council.
- Since the legal question on which body has the authority to close a school remains open, it was felt that drafting or discussing an RFP may be a moot point if the authority rests with the BOE.
- There is an item under New Business to waive the conflict and allow Attorney Mooney to write an opinion.

TNP/Farming Canal Heritage Trail Update

- At the last meeting, I spoke about the second area of modification involving Tomasso Nature Park. Specifically, the impact of having the trail run inside the park fence, using the existing pedestrian bridges and established path.
- Design concepts for the separation between the FCHT and TNP are being laid out with proposals around access points to the park, fencing and landscaping. Certain types of fencing would not be allowed because it would restrict the movement of wildlife, (Regulatory Issue), thus, a split rail fence and landscaping are likely.
- Specific attention is focused on the impact the trail will have on the turtle breeding habitats or turtle beds. In working with Mark DeVoe and Art Marino, we believe we have come up with a reasonable solution to lower the impact on the turtles' breeding habits.
- As part of the effort to reduce the impact on the turtles, the Town will prepare and submit an application for the Inland/Wetlands and Watercourse Commission to request a ruling on establishing two new turtle beds within TNP as a permitted and nonregulated use.
- The two proposed beds will be in areas off the path in flat locations, which will not be highly vulnerable to erosion and will offer much better access for breeding purposes. They are ringed with low vegetation that the turtles can traverse that also provide a buffer between the water's edge and the nesting areas.
- A work session on the North/South alignment is recommended for the Town Council for the May 15, 2023, meeting in order to review the timeline and status of all three phases of the FCHT.

Robertson Airport Projects Update

- The Aviation Commission has been working on three important capital projects: AWOS/PAPI/ Segmented Circle & Wind Cone installation, Fencing Project, and Small Roof Replacement for the Administration office.
- The Automated Weather Observing System (AWOS) is a system that collects and reports data about airport weather conditions automatically, continuously and in real-time.
- The Precision Approach Path Indicator (PAPI) project is a set of lights positioned beside a runway which provide pilots with a visual - indicator of their aircraft's position relative to the correct glidepath for the runway.

- The segmented circle and wind cone are visual indicators that provide traffic pattern information to pilots at airports without a control tower. All of these components are expected to be completed by the end of June.
- The fence project will replace the existing perimeter fence line facing out away from the runway towards Johnson Avenue. The fence bid was opened on Wednesday, April 26th, and the project will likely start in the fall pending FAA review.
- The roof replacement project is waiting for materials to be delivered and should be completed by July, if not sooner.
- The living tribute for Bill O'Leary and the new fire pit on the pation should be ready for early Summer.

Honor Heights Sewer Extension Project Bid

- At the last meeting, I mentioned the drafting of a "Preliminary Assessment" to file on the Plainville Land Records stating that a $10,000 preliminary sanitary sewer assessment is pending for the (80) properties affected by the Honor Heights Sewer Extension Project. That language is being reviewed by the Town Attorney's office.
- The Town Attorney's office is also assisting in reviewing the draft easement agreements which involve three properties.
- The Town Engineer has drafted a letter to notify homeowners that the staking of lateral lines will begin on or around May 4, 2023.
- The construction is estimated to begin in June 2023.

Camp Street Development Project Update

- A developer is proposing 74 senior citizen apartments in Bristol with property access and traffic entering and exiting via Camp Street in Plainville near Overlook Drive. The public has an opportunity to share concerns about traffic and ask questions at the Bristol Zoning Commission in the Bristol Board of Education Auditorium, 129 Church Street, on Monday, May 8, 2023, at
- In order to inform the public, Andy has created and posted pertinent information to the Town's Facebook page with links to the Hartford Courant article and to the site plan.
- I have also scheduled a meeting with the attorney representing the developer to discuss the project and raise the town's concern for traffic entering

Town Council Meeting May 15, 2023 Town Manager Report

Memorial Day Parade Update

- This year's Memorial Day Parade will take place at 9:00 AM on Monday, May 29th. As in previous years, several road closures will be in effect along the parade route for approximately one hour until the parade concludes.
- However, this year's parade will have a modification to the route. The route will start the same way as it has in the past, at the intersection of Broad Street and Whiting Street, but the final leg will direct participants from West Main Street up Whiting Street and proceed south back to its starting point. This will truncate the procession, eliminating Crown and Maple Street.
- At the conclusion of the parade, there will be a small ceremony at Veteran's Memorial Park on the corner of Maple Street and Whiting Street.

Shuttle Meadow Pump Station

- The Shuttle Meadow Road Wastewater Pump Station, located at 66 Shuttle Meadow Road, serves the southern section of Town. It was last upgraded in 2000 and the aging equipment requires a significant upgrade.
- The Town started the design process by issuing a request for proposals (RFP) in 2021. Tighe & Bond, Inc. ("Tighe & Bond") was selected through that competitive procurement process. The agreement between Tighe & Bond and the Town was amended in 2022 to include design phase engineering services (Amendment No. 1).
- The Water Pollution Control Facility ("WPCF") is proposing to amend the agreement again to include bidding and construction phase engineering services (Amendment No. 2).
- This scope of services would include assisting the Town during the bidding process, coordinating the Clean Water Act and the State Revolving Fund (SRF) application and associated tasks to get 2% funding from DEEP, assisting the Town during the construction of the project, providing part time resident engineering services, and providing post construction engineering.
- Given Tighe & Bond's familiarity with the project, it is recommended that the Town continue to utilize their services.
- There is an item under New Business to waive the competitive procurement process and award Bid 2023-18: Shuttle Meadow Pump Station Bidding and Construction Phase Engineering Services to Tighe & Bond, Inc. in the amount of $274,000.

WPC Security Cameras

- The Water Pollution Control Facility ("WPCF") is planning to install security cameras at their main plant and satellite pump stations. This project consists of replacing outdated existing camera units and installing new camera units to expand coverage.
- The original camera system was installed after the September 11 attacks when Congress required security enhancements at water and wastewater facilities. This system was later updated after cameras began to fail, and WPCF paid for a third party to monitor the system. The existing system has low resolution cameras with limited coverage and utility.
- WPCF received a quote from Omni Data, LLC ("Omni Data") for a total of $26,333.04, which includes hardware, software, and professional installation services. Omni Data products and software are currently utilized throughout the Plainville school system and in other Town facilities.
- It is recommended that the Town continue to

- utilize Omni Data's services, as they will ensure the Information Technology Department and Police Department have complete access to security cameras throughout the Town on a single compatible platform.
- There is an item under New Business to waive the competitive procurement process and award Bid 2023-25: WPCF Security Cameras to Omni Data, LLC in the amount of $26,333.04.

WPC SBR Decanter

- The Water Pollution Control Facility ("WPCF") utilizes four sequencing batch reactors (SBRs) to remove undesirable components from wastewater.
 A decanter is a mechanism in a SBR that removes clarified wastewater from the tank during the decanting (or emptying) phase of the operational cycle.
- Decanters that would be compatible with the WPCF's SBRs are no longer manufactured, and it is unlikely that a functional and suitable unit from another facility could be procured. In the event a decanter was to breakdown, WPCF operations would be seriously impacted for a protracted period.
- WPCF received a quote from Aqua-Aerobic Systems, Inc ("Aqua-Aerobic") for a total of $99,783, to produce a new decanter that can be retrofitted with one of WPCF's SBRs.
- It is recommended that the Town utilize Aqua-Aerobic Systems, Inc, as a sole source provider to build a new decanter to retrofit the existing system.
- There is an item under New Business to waive the competitive procurement process and award Bid 2024-01: WPCF SBR Decanter to Aqua-Aerobic Systems, Inc. in the amount of $99,783.

Vehicle Auction

- I have received a request from B&G Superintendent Dave Emery to sell a town vehicle at auction.
- The vehicle in question is a 2010 Ford Explorer with the following VIN 1FMEU7DE3AUA04106
- This vehicle was formerly used by the Fire Marshal and has been stored at Buildings and Grounds for approximately 1 year. The vehicle has a blown transmission and a malfunctioning computer module which is obsolete. It has no value other than parts or scrap.
- There is an item under New Business to approve the sale of the vehicle at auction.

Auditor Appointment

- Connecticut municipalities are required to notify the State Office of Policy & Management by June 1st of the firm that will be performing the Town Audit for FY23.
- The Finance Director is recommending that the Town Council appoint CliftonLarsonAllen, our current auditors, to conduct this audit.
- There is an item under New Business to appoint CliftonLarsonAllen as auditors for FY2023-2024.

ARPA Discussion

- The next item ready for public hearing is the masonry work at the High School. Using a combination of ARPA ($150k) and Capital funding ($20k), the Board of Education (BOE) is proposing to restore exterior masonry on the 1954 section of Plainville High School (PHS).
- The project would include materials, cleaning, repairs, waterproofing, painting/staining, and inspection.
- The scope of work is estimated to be approximately $170,000 and will be utilizing the ezIQC contracting program through the Capital Region Purchasing Council.
- There is an item under New Business to send this item to a public hearing for June 5, 2023.

Charter Revision Commission Update

• The Charter Revision Commission is in the

- process of composing their draft final report that outlines their recommended changes to the Town Charter.
- The Commission is scheduled to meet on Thursday, May 18th to approve a draft report, which will then be posted to the Town website for public review. A Public Hearing is scheduled for Tuesday, May 23, 2023, at 5:30 PM at the Plainville Public Library Auditorium where the public can share their thoughts on the recommended changes.
- The Commission will meet again after the Public Hearing to consider any further changes and approve a final report to be submitted to the Town Clerk.
- The deadline for submitting the final report to the Town Clerk is Monday, June 5, 2023. The Commission is on schedule to meet that due date.

Hygrade Precision Manufacturing – A Plainville business owner, Pedro Soto, of Hygrade Precision Manufacturing was named as the SBACT Manufacturer of the year. Hygrade focuses on precision finishing techniques on several components, mainly focused within the aerospace sector. Pedro Soto purchased Hygrade in October 2019 and weathered COVID by utilizing several state and federal funding assistance, allowing him to keep long-tenured employees on board, and, during COVID, was able to refocus Hygrade's work around several medical components to help meet demand as the aerospace sector paused at this time. Pedro is now focused on the continued growth of the company and their services. Through additional government-based contracts, Hygrade is looking to expand their employee base and introduce a second shift over the next year.

Representatives from the Town, SBA, CBIA, DECD, and Senator Martin and Blumenthal's offices toured Hygrade when the award was announced, and a formal awards ceremony was held May 4th at Rentschler Field.

Americold – Construction of Americold has been completed and a Certificate of Occupancy has been issued by the Building Department. Finalization of the automation programming is nearing an end and Americold has begun promoting job opportunities at the plant. The town has been told a soft launch of the site should be happening near the middle of June with operations ramping up throughout the summer until full capacity is reached. I'm working with Attorney Mastrianni to finalize language for the Tax Fixing Agreement and will present it to the Town Council for ratification at the first available meeting.

EDA Forgivable Loan – During the pandemic you all decided to enact a Forgivable Loan option to assist local businesses keep their doors open. As the offering may have been lost in the slew of other state and federal funding programs, we only received a single application from Big Steve's Grill. The funding went towards the relocation and operation of the restaurant from Whiting Street to Woodford Avenue. As Big Steve's has remained in operation in town, for a period of two (2) years from the date of loan issuance, the full loan amount of $10,000 has become fully forgivable, per program regulations. I will be issuing a release notice to their attention, and this will officially close out the program.

The FED has ruined the American Dollar.

*Their aggressive actions to beat inflation have failed as the world further tilts towards recession leaving American's suffering heavily.

*The rate hikes and recent printing of $7,000,000,000,000 are accelerating the collapse of the U.S. dollar.

*The dollar is set to lose its status as the world's reserve currency.

*To make things worse, Biden and the Fed are currently working on a secret "Project Hamilton", a new form of digital currency that will obliterate your freedom and privacy.

*America is out of time. We are feeling just the tip of the gigantic iceberg that will sink the U.S. ship very soon.

*This is not the time to gamble with your money while the U.S. Monetary system is heading into a reset.

Cooley Acknowledges Connecticut Alzheimer's Advocacy Day

HARTFORD- State Rep. Francis Rexford Cooley (R-22) joined fellow Alzheimer's advocates on Wednesday May 17 at the State Capitol a day of advocacy urging Connecticut state lawmakers to support legislation that would assist people with dementia and their families.

Rep. Cooley said, " Today, we heard many heart-wrenching stories from family members. The legislature can and should do more to help those with dementia and their families."

One of the pieces of legislation Alzheimer's advances are championing SP 021. Are Act

One of the pieces of legislation Alzheimer's advocates are championing, SB 931 An Act Expanding Access to The Alzheimer's Disease Respite Care Program.

According to the proposal, starting July 1, 2023, this bill expands eligibility for individuals with Alzheimer's disease or related disorders to participate in the state's Respite Care Program. It does so by increasing the program's (1) annual income limit from $51,114 to $70,000 and (2) annual liquid asset limit from $135,892 to $179,000.

The other piece of legislation, Senate bill 1025, An Act Implementing the Recommendations of the Homemaker-Companion Agency Task Force has a provision which would establish a Statewide Dementia Coordination.

A State Dementia Services Coordinator is an individual within the state government whose job is to ensure coordination of Alzheimer's programs and policies across state agencies.

A State Dementia Services Coordinator would:

- * Oversee the implementation and updating of the State Alzheimer's Disease Plan
- * Coordinate Alzheimer's and dementia work groups and task forces
- * Establish and maintain relationships with all relevant state agencies and community organizations to meet community needs and prevent duplication of services
- * Evaluate existing Alzheimer's and dementia programs and services
- * Identify service gaps within the state government

* Increase awareness of and facilitate access to quality, coordinated care for people with dementia.

Currently there are 80,000 people in Connecticut living with Alzheimer 's disease or other dementia. The Alzheimer's Association estimates that this number will rise to 91,000 people by 2025.

Connecticut is the 6th oldest state in the nation and age remains the biggest risk factor to developing Alzheimer's disease or other dementia.

No Lord Stanley's Cup for the Bruins

By: Francis Rexford Cooley

The Boston Bruins set an NHL record for the most wins, 65, and points (wins plus overtime losses), 135, in a season. The Bruins easily captured the NHL's Presidents' Trophy for the best season record. Hopes were high for the Bruins entering the playoff to capture a seventh Stanley Cup. Those hopes were quickly dashed by the Florida Panthers in the first round. It was a crushing loss for a team that had so dominated the regular season and illustrated once again why the Stanley Cup playoffs are often referred to as a second

The Presidents' Trophy has been given annually to the team ending the regular season with the most points at the end of the season since the 1985-1986 season. It is the successor to the Prince of Wales Trophy given to the NHL season champion from 1937-1967 in the pre-expansion era. Teams get two points for a win and a single point for an overtime loss (formerly for a tie prior to the implementation of the Shoot Out to settle games after the overtime period). A cash bonus goes to the players of the team capturing the season title. It is similar to soccer, like that of the Premier League in Britain, which has long had a separation between the season league championship and Cup play. What wins during the season does not necessarily translate to winning in the playoffs. In the prior 36 seasons the award was given only 8 teams have gone on to survive the Stanley Cup playoffs and won the Cup. The other 24 teams, and now the Bruins, that have captured the President's Trophy only to lose their bid to double up with the Cup.

One would instinctively think the team that has been strongest all season long should prevail in the playoffs. That is not the case. The statistical trend of an 82 game regular season does not reflect what will happen in a best of seven playoff, that has to be repeated four times to capture the Stanley Cup. The Washington Capitals won the Presidents' Trophy in 2016 and 2017 but were defeated both years in the second round by the Pittsburgh Penguins who finished second to the Caps in their division before beating them on the way to their back-to-back Stanley Cup wins those years. Thirteen times the Presidents' Trophy winner has fallen to the eventual Stanley Cup champion in the playoffs, the last being the Bruins who lost to the Tampa Bay Lightning in 2020 (The Panthers are still alive in the chase for the Cup as this is being written). Only three of those Presidents' Trophy winners even made it to the Stanley Cup finals before losing. The odds seem stacked against teams that win the Presidents' Cup.

There are no sure things in sports. In hockey that is especially true in that a single player can dominate as few can in other sports. The goalie makes or breaks a team. Great goalies when they are "on their game" or "in the zone" can take a good team to a championship. Patrick Roy of the Montreal Canadians and, later, Colorado Avalanche won four Stanley Cups with only the 2001 Cup coinciding with his team taking the Presidents' Trophy that same year. Martin Brodeur of the New Jersey Devils took a team that finished fifth in their conference to win the Stanley Cup, the first of three Brodeur won with the Devils though he never won a Presidents' Trophy with them. Just two years ago Carey Price took the Montreal Canadians, the lowest qualifying team for the playoffs during the Covid shortened season, all the way to the Stanley Cup finals before falling to the Lightning. Price's performance illustrated how much a "hot" goalie can impact the playoffs by metaphorically carry the team on his shoulders though in this case not even Price could carry the offensively challenged Canadians all the way to the Cup.

Lord Stanley's Cup is won each year by the team that works hard, gets timely goal tending, and gets a lucky bounce of the puck or two (or three or four...). In a short seven game series a "hot" goalie can beat the best of teams, lucky bounces are magnified since there are not enough games for such bounces to be within statistical norms of a regular season, in short it is a brand new season in which what has gone before no longer counts. Each round in the playoffs starts a new race for the Cup until only one team remains and rarely it is the one that won the Presidents' Trophy. So once again the team that raised the Trophy is denied from drinking the sweet taste of victory from Lord Stanley's Cup.

The author is bleeds blue and green, loves hearing "The Brass Bonanza," still has a Whalers Adams Division regular season champions minibanner from the 1986-1987 season, and enjoys watching the Stanley Cup playoffs no matter who is playing.

To all who supported the Wonder of Women event on May 2:

THANK YOU!

A record 450 individuals joined us for the 22nd annual Wonder of Women (WOW) event, an incredible, uplifting evening that proved life is better when you're laughing. Christine O'Leary WOWed us as the guest speaker, inspiring us and making us laugh as only a comedian could. We are so grateful she was able to join us!

The Women & Girls Fund at Main Street Community Foundation works to improve the conditions and opportunities for women and girls in Bristol, Burlington, Plainville, Plymouth, Southington and Wolcott. Net proceeds from the WOW event benefit the Fund's annual grant cycle. Last year, $43,400 was awarded to 13 organizations; a full list can be found here. Since the Fund's establishment in 2001, over $718,000 in grants have been awarded to improve the lives of local women and girls

This year's WOW event was a success in every way and will allow so many grants to be awarded.

But more than that, a special Pass the Purse collection was done at the event to benefit the women and children affected by the war in Ukraine through the Polish American Foundation of Connecticut. Last year Pass the Purse benefitted the same cause, and this year we welcomed Anna Kobylarz and Zoriana Kramarenko from the PAF to provide an update.

They are now specifically working with the City of Goodness project in Ukraine, a shelter for orphans and mothers.

We asked everyone to once again Pass the Purse, and are overwhelmed by the response - $7,200 was raised and is being donated. Your generosity continues to amaze and inspire us.

Thank you to all of the sponsors and silent auction donors, and thank you for joining us and supporting local women and girls.

You are part of a legacy of donors who are making a difference and creating lasting change.

Rep. Cooley, House Republicans Unveil Biennial Budget Proposal

2024-2025 plan provides more tax relief than Governor and Democrats, invests in key areas including education and nonprofit social safety net providers

State Rep. Francis Rexford Cooley (R-22) and his House Republican colleagues released a balanced budget proposal that provides more than $1 billion in broad-based tax relief to Connecticut residents while also making historic investments in education and providing more funding for nonprofit providers.

"Providing tax relief for the working families of Plainville, Farmington and Southington was my number one priority and this budget plan accomplishes that goal," said Rep. Rexford Cooley. "This proposal accelerates senior tax relief and creates a new state child tax deduction all within the fiscal budget guardrails put into place back in 2017."

The fiscally conservative plan from House Republicans constrains overall spending growth in the general fund to less than zero percent in FY24 and 2.6 percent in FY25. The Republican plan offers $1.16 billion in tax relief through a variety of means, including a retroactive structural middle-class income tax cut with additional relief for seniors and, for the first time, a state child tax deduction for everyone at a rate of $2,000 per child.

The Republican budget meets the challenge of funding core government services, and in several cases spends more in key areas than Democrats. That includes a $290 million investment in local education funding that provides fully funded special education grants (more than $50 million) for the first time. The budget matches Democrat-level funding for colleges and universities but also installs new reporting requirements for both the UConn and CSCU systems. The plan also provides a 2.5 percent increase for nonprofit service providers.

Q-1) My 65th Birthday is Aug 14, and I've heard I have a 7-month period to sign up for Medicare. Can I just wait until January?

A-1) The 7-month period you are referring to is called "Your Initial Enrollment Period". The 7 months are: 3 months before your Birthday month, your Birthday month and 3 months after your Birthday. If you currently have Insurance, you would be eligible to enroll at a different time, but if you do not have Credible Insurance, you should sign up during your Initial Enrollment Period. Q-2) I am 67 and was covered under my Spouse's Medical Insurance. He unexpectedly passed away, so I no longer have Insurance. Can I sign up for Medicare now?

A-2) First, I'm sorry to hear of your loss. And second, yes, you have a Special Enrollment Period, due to loss of Employer coverage. You have only 2 months; so, you should Enroll in Medicare as soon as possible, to avoid any Late Enrollment Penalties.

Q-3) I enrolled in Medicare at 65 and have been working and paying quarterly for my Medicare Benefits. When I stop working and collect my SS, will I still pay quarterly for Medicare?

A-3) Once you start collecting your Social Security Benefits, your Medicare Payments will be taken out of your Social Security check each month. No more quarterly payment required.

I you have any specific questions, or if you'd just like to talk Medicare, Please feel free to give me a call 860-965-0091 Sheila Dow

Aging and Dental Health

Older adults are at increased risk for root caries because of both increased gingival recession that exposes root surfaces and increased use of medications that produce xerostomia; approximately 50% of persons aged older than 75 years of age have root caries affecting at least one tooth. Ten percent of patients 75 to 84 years of age are affected by secondary coronal caries; this is likely related to the prevalence of restorations in the older population.

Adoption of good oral hygiene, which includes use of rotating/oscillating toothbrushes, and the use of topical fluoride (i.e., daily mouth rinses, high fluoride toothpaste and regular fluoride varnish application), as well as attention to dietary intake have been recommended in the literature.

Because cardiovascular disease is common among older individuals, it has been suggested by Ouanounou and Haas that the dose of epinephrine contained in anesthetics should be limited to a maximum of 0.04 mg. The authors recommend that even without a history of overt cardiovascular disease, the use of epinephrine in older adult patients should be minimized because of the expected effect of aging on the heart. They recommend monitoring blood pressure and heart rate when considering multiple administrations of epinephrine-containing local anesthetic in the older adult population.

Cognitive limitations affecting dental care and home oral care

Patients with severe cognitive impairment, including dementia, are at increased risk for caries, periodontal disease, and oral infection because of decreased ability to engage in home oral care.

Education of the caregiver, as well as the patient, is an important part of the prevention and disease management phase of dental care. Communication during the dental appointment may be challenging when the older adult has cognitive impairments. It is recommended that the number of people, distractions, and noise in the operatory be minimized when providing care to a patient with dementia, although a trusted caregiver in the room may provide reassurance to the patient. Patients should be approached from the front at eye level and use of nonverbal communication, such as smiling and eye contact, is important.

The dentist should begin the conversation by introducing himself or herself. Because a patient with cognitive limitations may become overwhelmed by information easily, instructions should be simple and sentences short, such as, "Please open your mouth."

Because cognitive impairment or dementia can affect a patient's ability to follow instructions following oral surgery, it is recommended that practitioners ensure local hemostasis (i.e., sutures, local hemostatics, socket preservation techniques) prior to dismissal from the dental practice.

Dentate patients with cognitive limitations should be encouraged to brush their teeth two or more times daily; use of an electric or battery-operated toothbrush should be considered.

The same oral care routine should be followed consistently, as possible. In patients with removable prosthetic devices, the device(s) should be removed, inspected, and cleaned before bed and returned to the mouth in the morning.

Water Infrastructure Work to Begin in Plainville

Water Main Replacement Project Scheduled to Start June 1, 2023

Plainville, CONN. – Aquarion Water Company continues to perform essential work on infrastructure necessary to ensure the reliability of Plainville's water system. A water main replacement project is scheduled to begin June 1 on Hultenius Street, Rosewood Drive, and Kari Drive in Plainville. The project is expected to be completed by July 2023. Final paving will then be scheduled in coordination with the Town of Plainville.

The project, which will replace approximately 2,070 feet of water main, is part of an ongoing program to improve Aquarion's water distribution system and to ensure the highest quality water. The infrastructure upgrades will also help to reduce leaks and water main breaks that can cause service interruptions.

"We greatly appreciate residents' patience during this project," said Justin Xenelis, Aquarion's Manager of Utility Programs. "We will work closely with our customers, contractors, and town officials to coordinate the work and minimize any disruptions."

Due to construction, customers should expect minor traffic delays and

Life Wanda

As we all age there are fewer and fewer things we can find or can afford that might give us some pleasure. Things we used to dread like grocery shopping, going to the mail box or going to the doctors seems to become the highlight of our week.

Yes, joining a senior group gives us a few laughs but then we find everyone there has the same aches and pains as we have, so the only thing we begin to talk about is what hurts, where and what doctor are we going to.

This week I spoke to a couple of sisters and I think they have stumbled onto something. When I called one of them they were both laughing and carrying on like two gals at a bar.

were both getting Three Dimensional Massages. It seems their doctors had set them up for massage treatments and they haven't missed one appointment. I asked how long they have to go before they are cured and they said, "Hell, we were cured four months ago, but don't tell our doctor."

I asked where they were that they were in such high spirits. They said they

Not only are they getting massages every week but Medicare is paying. Now this is really a deal. They figure they can probably string this along for another year or so.

Now, if they can only convince the masseuse to serve a little wine during their sessions it would be perfect. If you limp, when you go to the doctors next time, I bet you can convince your doctor to recommend this treatment.

I, Thank God for Medicare!

PHS UNIFIED PROGRAM ATHLETES PARTICIPATE IN WEEK OF WELLNESS

Plainville High School students in the Unified Sports program recently participated in a "Week of Wellness" coordinated by Plainville High School Special Education faculty member, Sheila DiMinno. "The student athletes raised money for the Week of Wellness activities through the school store that they operate," explained DiMinno. "Through the various wellness related activities, they were able to practice life skills and reinforce the need to take the time for self-care."

The first wellness visit for the students featured a trip to Wilcox Technical School in Meriden, where students and staff opened their doors to provide haircuts, manicures and facials to all of the Plainville students who attended. Tuesday's wellness focus was on learning to do things for others who have supported the Unified Program. As such, the Unified Team members baked 500 cookies for fellow Plainville High School students and staff as a thank you for supporting their school store. Additionally, Saint's Restaurant of Plainville donated coffee for high school staff members. On Wednesday, the Unified Team members visited the "FitLife 24/7" gym in Southington and participated in yoga and meditation classes led by Plainville staff member, Samantha DeMauro. Thursday's wellness visit was to Lola's Bistro & Grill in Plainville, where students enjoyed a meal and practiced social skills.

"The Week of Wellness was the perfect opportunity for our students to focus on self-care and practice important related life skills. We are so appreciative of the local businesses and organizations that supported our students and the activities they facilitated," said DiMinno.

"We are grateful to our community partners who made the Week of Wellness a huge success," said Christina Kiley, Supervisor of Special Services.

"This week of wellness represents a wonderful combination of wellness skills and opportunities for our students to support the wellness of others while also expressing gratitude. I appreciate all the hard work and coordination that went into this by Mrs. DiMinno and everyone involved, including our wonderful community partners," said Superintendent of Schools, Steven LePage.

CONGRATULATIONS

On behalf of the Plainville Board of Education and the Plainville Community Schools administration, faculty, and staff, I wish to offer our sincere congratulations on your graduationfrom Plainville High School. Successfully completing your school career in Plainville brings our community pride and joy.

The theme of the yearbook this year is "People Magazine." When I saw this theme, the first thing that struck me was what this magazine would look like for each of you if it contained all thepeople who have helped get you to this accomplishment. I imagine there would be teachersfrom elementary school, most likely at Linden, Toffolon, or Wheeler, who helped you so much asyou began your school life. I am sure there would be many friends, some you made in kindergarten, that are still with you today celebrating this occasion. I know there would be morepeople from MSP, the ones that helped you during those years to help you grow into the person you were as you started PHS in the Fall of 2019.

As principal of PHS, I sincerely hope many pages will be filled with friends, staff, teachers, and everyone else that makes PHS such a special place to go to school. I know most of all, though, that there would be many pages dedicated to your family. They are the ones who have been with you throughout this whole journey and helped you get to this day. Moments like graduation are a fantastic opportunity to reflect on all the people who have assisted you in accomplishing this goal. Whether they had a minor impact that only lasted moments or the most significant impact that has lasted your whole life, take a moment and think about all these people who have supported you this entire time.

As you end this magazine edition and start a new one, we all at PHS look forward to what will be in that next issue. Whether those moments will come from continuing your education, volunteering to serve your country, joining the workforce, or something else entirely, we wish you all the best. You have been prepared well by your time at PHS, and you are ready for the future, whatever that may hold. But, no matter what that may include, remember, "Once a Blue Devil, Always a Blue Devil."

"PUT LOCAL ON YOUR TRAY" TASTE TEST EVENT A SUCCESS!

Students, faculty, staff and special guests enjoyed a "taste test" during the Put Local on Your Tray event held at Frank T. Wheeler Elementary School on April 18th, . The event, which was coordinated by Plainville Community Schools Food Services Director Ashley Carl, and held during the school's lunch waves, introduced Kale Salad as a taste test item, featuring locally grown kale from the Maple Bank Farm in Roxbury, Connecticut. Additionally, students enjoyed locally produced maple syrup from the Lamothe Sugar House in Burlington, Connecticut, Greek yogurt from Cows Around the Corner in Bethlehem, Connecticut, and several additional healthy food items as part of the lunch menu that day. "Farm to School activities such as this tasting event are beneficial to Connecticut's students, farmers, and communities at large," said Connecticut Department of Agriculture Commissioner Bryan P. Hurlburt. "We applaud the educators and administrators at Plainville Public Schools for bringing this experience to their students while supporting local producers with their purchase of CT Grown products."

"It was a great event and the kids were so excited to try the kale! Many students were even asking for seconds, and we will now feature Kale Salad on our menu in the future. I am very lucky to have such strong support from our district, non-profit partners, and the Connecticut State Department of Education," noted Carl.

PLAINVILLE HIGH SCHOOL STUDENTS HONORED WITH "STUDENT ROCKS AWARD"

Plainville High
School students
Tamara Greene,
Andrew West,
and Bobby Wright have been named recipients of the second semester
"Student Rocks

Award" recognizing their outstanding contributions to Plainville High School. The Student Rocks Award was established by three teachers in 2010 as a way to honor those students who "do the right thing" every day without looking for acknowledgement.

"Tamara is not afraid to be challenged or to challenge others. She is an incredibly supportive classmate and always finds ways to bring joy to her class. She has a wealth of knowledge that adds depth to a class lesson, but also possesses a genuine curiosity to know more." noted Ryan O'Connell.

West, a senior, was nominated by staff members Suzanne Nord, Sarah Centore, and Deb Pikiell.

"Throughout the years I have known Andrew, I have been in awe of his ability to set lofty goals and his strength and perseverance to achieve them. He takes on all life has to offer with a smile and a positive attitude. He is a truly deserving recipient of the Student Rocks Award," noted Pikiell.

Wright, a junior, was nominated by staff members Christina Roy, Sarah Centore, and Kevin Szydlo.

"Wherever Bobby goes, whether in the classroom or in the halls, he brings good vibes with him, and I think that's something that will be so incredibly valuable to any team or community he wants to be a part of. I was ecstatic to see Bobby was chosen as one of our Student Rocks recipients, and I know that this is just one of many great achievements that he will have in his life," noted Szydlo.

Tamara, Andrew and Bobby were honored on May 17th during a high school faculty meeting.

"The Student Rocks award is one of the most prestigious and in my opinion, best awards a student can earn at PHS. It recognizes the impact these students have had on our school culture. The three students honored this semester embody what we hope for from all of our Blue Devils at PHS. Our faculty could not have chosen three better recipients of this award," said Plainville High School Principal, Carl Johnson.

Toffolon Student Participates in Connecticut Kid Governor Program

Louis Toffolon Elementary School fifth grader Isabella "Bella" Peters was recognized on May 24th, for her participation as Toffolon's primary candidate for the Connecticut Kid Governor election this past fall, according to Toffolon faculty member, Susan

The Kid Governor program for fifth graders was created by the Connecticut Democracy Center at Connecticut's Old State House. The program, which coincides with the November Election Day each year, provides the opportunity for schools in Connecticut to enter one fifth grade candidate into a statewide election that fellow fifth graders across Connecticut vote in, and ultimately elect the next year's "Kid Governor" who for the 2023 year is Elisavet Mendez of Monroe, Connecticut.

From the Desk of..... Thomas A. Wurz GRADUATION SEASON '23

It's that time of year again when young adults enjoy the excitement of entering their next stage in life. High School graduation brings a sense of accomplishment, excitement, and optimism for all of the graduates. For most, graduation also presents an opportunity to celebrate with a party. Whenever there is a party, the threat of alcohol being present should always be on the minds of parents. Some parents may try to control the consumption of alcohol by allowing their children to drink under their supervision. However, the dangers associated with underage drinking will persist even when adults are present.

Connecticut criminal law penalizes anyone who sells, ships, delivers, or gives alcoholic liquor to a minor, by any means, with a fine not to exceed $1,500 or imprisoned not more than 18 months or both. The law specifically outlines parents as a person who may be guilty of this crime. If the minor child were ever to be charged with possessing and consuming the alcohol given to them by their parent(s), then the parents could also be charged with a crime. This law extends to any minor, so if you child's friends consume the alcohol you provided, you expose yourself to criminal charges. The application of the law is probably not that shocking for any parent who may be reading this article. The law may not even be enough to deter some from allowing alcohol at a graduation party. Although, after considering the potential civil liability you expose yourself to you may want to reconsider facilitating any underage drinking.

The potential for anyone to get injured after consuming alcohol is always apparent. When that person is an underage, inexperienced drinker the odds obviously increase exponentially. Therefore, when an adult gives a minor alcohol and that minor injures themselves or others, that adult will be liable for the result. The adult is liable because they set forth the chain of events by supplying the alcohol. Civilly, this opens them up to be sued for the damages they helped create. If the parent or other adult gets a civil judgment ordered against them they may have their wages attached or just about anything they own in order to pay the judgment. Most people would not risk everything they have or may potentially have with someone they trust. So why would anyone risk everything they have to a group of people they may hardly know and have no control over? Regardless of how responsible your children and their friends may be, supplying alcohol to them will always expose you to whatever they do under the influence. Whatever perceived control you may think you have, the reality is that you can never prevent some things. You may end up being liable for something as small as a trip and fall or something as big as a death.

Graduation season is a time for joy and celebration. The last thing anyone wants to think about is an unfortunate incident when they reflect on a graduation. So don't hesitate to tell your kids "No" when it comes to underage drinking. As always, if any of these situations become a reality in your life, consult with a licensed attorney so that you may better understand and protect your rights.

CANNABIS CONVERSATION

Dr. Paulina Miklosz

DNP, APRN

This month's edition of Cannabis Conversations will explore using cannabis medicine through oral consumption. While there has been significant progress made in the research and application of medical cannabis over the last decade, cannabis unfortunately remains stigmatized among much of the general public and health professionals alike. One of the main contributing factors here is the negative portrayal of cannabis use in the media (think typical lazy stoner smoking doobies on the couch) and lack of public education regarding the many other ways in which cannabis can be used. Last month's article touched on the various methods in which one can use medical cannabis, and today we'll cover the basics when it comes to choosing oral cannabis preparations (often classified as edibles in the dispensary). Here are the different varieties of oral cannabis products:

- Capsules & Tablets: Cannabis capsules and tablets offer discreet, convenient medication use and consistent dosing. Capsules are often made of gelatin and filled with a cannabis extract and carrier oil, such as olive oil or coconut oil. Tablets and capsules can be taken with or without food, and they typically start to work within 40-60 minutes with cannabis effects lasting from 6-8 hours on average.
- Edibles: Edibles usually refers to any food products that have been infused with cannabis. This can range from baked goods like cookies and brownies to chocolate, gummies and drinks. The onset is typically a bit longer with edibles, with effects starting around 60-90 mins after ingestion and lasting for 6-10 hours on average. These may be especially helpful for chronic conditions or symptoms that respond best to long-acting/extended-release medications.
- Tinctures: Cannabis tinctures are liquid extracts of cannabis that are available in dropper bottles and are typically taken sublingually (a few drops under the tongue). Absorption is quicker than with capsules/tablets as their effects typically start within 15-30 minutes.

• Sublingual Sprays: Cannabis sublingual sprays are a fast-acting way to take cannabis medicine. They are typically made with a cannabis oil that has been mixed with a carrier oil or alcohol base. Sublingual sprays are absorbed quickly into the bloodstream, and they typically start to work within 15-30 minutes.

When first starting an oral cannabis medicine, it is important to consider your experience and tolerance level with cannabis. For those who are relatively new to cannabis, starting with a low dose and increasing the dose very gradually is key to preventing or minimizing potential side effects. The most common side effects of cannabis medicine include dry mouth, red eyes, hunger and drowsi-

If you are interested in starting a cannabis medicine regimen, I encourage you to talk to a healthcare professional (whether that be your primary care provider or a cannabis clinician like myself) to determine if you are a good candidate for medical cannabis. Your clinician should also review whether you have any health conditions for which cannabis is not recommended or if you take any medications that can interact with cannabis (both CBD and THC have many drug-drug interactions). For guidance on medical cannabis use and dosing as well as medical cannabis consultations, please contact our clinic, Higher Med at (959) 900-8206 or check out our website at HigherMed.org.

FROM CROUCHING TO LIFTING, GARDENING IS GREAT EXERCISE.

Protect your knees while gardening this summer.

This summer make sure you are making the necessary precautions while in your garden. Whether you're uprooting begonias or shoveling topsoil there are certain precautions you should take.

Make sure to keep your body in tip-top shape and prevent injury, awareness is critical.

You'll especially want to protect your knees and other joints from the bumps and jolts that are a part of any hike. Otherwise, you may find your summer adventures sidelined by injuries or pain in your knees, back, hips, or ankles. This is where an investment in the right hiking gear can make all the difference.

KNEELING

To ease knee symptoms and keep your joints healthy, start with a good kneeling mat or pair of knee pads. They will:

*Reduce the load to the knee cap by creating a consistent soft surface.

*Allow you to get areas where you would have difficulty crouching

*Improve your back and knee mechanics throughout your time in

For maximum benefit, be sure to move your mat as you weed, plant, or dig—you may have to adjust as you make progress, don't reach. Many times if gardening is your goal, your physical therapist will engage in exercises to address core control while on your knees or in the quadruped position.

LIFTING

We have all heard the old adage lift with your legs. While this rolls off the tongue you may also want to add the glutes into this as well:

Direction: When lifting make sure you are squared up to the item you are about to lift. Whether this is a boulder, the lawnmower catcher, or a bag of soil keep it close to your body and your sternum should be directly facing the item.

Put It Down: Again, this is tied to unloading your load—make sure to step and point your toes to your desired landing or resting space. Injury is incurred when your hips and upper body go different directions when setting a heavier item down. It is good practice to do this with even lighter items to keep you in good practice.

SHOVELING:

Just as in lifting you should square up to your target and when throwing soil, leaves, of other items point your lead foot in a 1/4 lunge movement toward the landing place.

Gloves: Many injuries seen by therapists could be avoided with a good pair of gardening gloves. Very often a client will have a bag, tree, or shrub begin to slip due to their grip and they attempt to awkwardly catch it in mid fall.

Hips Don't Lie: Good hip strength and mobility can significantly take pressure and subsequent pain out of the knee joint and also the knee cap. A skilled therapist can not only assess your hips but also depending on your anatomy let you know the custom exercises that will keep your lawn green, vegetables growing, and your beds flowering.

PUSH-PULL-CARRY

Before you move a heavier garden item remember the push-pull-carry philsophy. This is the hierarchy of how you move something it not only reduces shear forces and wear to the knees, but also takes the load off of your lumbar spine.

Sometimes the biggest help here is taking a breath and assessing what will be the safest and most efficient to accomplish your horticulture goal.

IS INJURY INEVITABLE?

Despite all your precautions, you may end up getting hurt. A common injury is patellofemoral pain syndrome (PFPS), we also call it gardener's knee. It's not a specific injury—it's a broad term for describing the pain that comes from one of several knee problems. You'll usually notice the pain in front of your kneecap, but it can be felt around or behind it. You might also have swelling, hear popping, or have a grinding feeling in the knee. Many times there is an ache not only in the garden but also when you finally sit down for a well deserved beverage.

Treatment from a good physical therapist can ease pain and help you heal. Your PT can also provide strengthening exercises that prevent injury down the road—or in the garden!

Dear Friends & Editor

Eversource and UI recently announced electricity rates for the year's second half. CT households will see relief from the astronomical bills of the last few months since the second-half prices are always lower than the first-half rates. However, prices will still be 15% higher than last year. CT residents can switch from Eversource/UI standard service to other reputable suppliers and reverse the price increase entirely. Thousands of CT households have already switched and saved money. There is no catch. It takes a few minutes and can be done online. Below is the how and why:

Households can comparison shop and save money electric supply: Residential and business customers can conveniently review and compare various suppliers on www.energizect.com. Electric supply markets are deregulated and households can choose from a number of competing suppliers by clicking on www.energizect.com . Currently, suppliers are offering electric supply for less than 12c /kWh for a term of 18 months. In comparison the Eversource standard service is currently 24c, and for the second half, it will be 13.82c. The first half of 2024 is likely to be higher again since winter prices in CT are higher than summer prices. Hence shopping for electricity will save money.

CT legislation ensures fairness and reliability of a competitive market: The legislature has set up clear and strict rules where all suppliers must be transparent, and all contracts must be cancellable at any time without penalty. So while a household can sign for a fixed price for 18 or 26 months, they can cancel anytime for any reason. In prior years, comparison shopping was less critical because supply costs were low and stable. But now, comparison shopping saves money because of the gas supply constraints in winter

Your electricity bill consists of two parts- Supply and Delivery: Supply refers to the electrons flowing when you use your lights. Delivery refers to the costs for wires and substations needed to get those electrons flowing to your home. Supply is deregulated, price is volatile, and multiple generators/suppliers can serve you. On the other hand, delivery is regulated, meaning you have no choice. The total bill is a sum of the supply costs and delivery costs. When you switch you are still provided the same reliability and service from the utility since they are still getting paid for delivery.

If you do not choose a supplier, you get the default standard service price: If customers do not choose a supplier, the statute requires that the utility - Eversource or UI procure electricity for those customers. The default procurement is called "Standard Service." The standard service is procured via several auctions one year before the term. Considering the energy volatility in recent years, suppliers are reluctant to bid into these auctions, hence the high prices. Switching is easy and takes only a few minutes. However, it does take one to two billing cycles for the utility to enable the switch. Hence, looking ahead for 1 - 2 months before making any change is essential.

Please email me if you have any questions.

Harry Arora

A member of the Phi Theta Kappa Honor Society, she furthered her education at Endicott College, from where she graduated Magna Cum Laude and began her passion for championing for women's rights. She and Walter settled in Watertown where they raised their family of three daughters and became proud grandparents. Marlene began her career as a buyer for Sherwin Medical, a job she thoroughly enjoyed, and retired in 2000 as an executive assistant at St. Mary's Hospital in Waterbury, having been in the comfort of their care during her final days. Her 23 years of retirement were spent leaving no stone unturned. She fulfilled her love for the beach, wintering in Florida and cruising to the islands; traveling the world on dream vacations, including crossing Paris off of her bucket list; and entertaining family and friends with her infectious love for life and addictive cinnamon rolls. She had a love for shopping, mostly so she could spoil her children and grandkids with thoughtful gifts, and embraced quiet times at home tending to her gardens and enjoying a good book. While she has left this earthly life, she leaves her family and many dear friends to whom she was loyally devoted with countless memories of love and laughter.

In addition to her husband Walter, she leaves her three daughters, Debra Gallo and her husband Scott, Theresa Stawski, and Amy Plourde and her husband, Kevin; her fourth "daughter" Marybeth DePompa with whom she shared a special bond; her adored grandchildren, Nathan and Jacob Gallo, Riley Stawski, and Peyton, Logan and Griffin Plourde; along with many nieces, nephews, extended family and lifelong friends.

In lieu of flowers, Marlene may be remembered with contributions to the Michael J. Fox Foundation for Parkinson's Research PO Box 5014, Hagerstown, MD 21741 or at http://www.michaeljfox.org

Family and friends gathered in celebration of Marlene's life at Plainville Funeral Home, 81 Broad St, Plainville. A Mass of Christian Burial followed at St. Dominic Church, 1050 Flanders Rd, Southington. She will be laid to rest privately at a later date. OBITUARIES

~ Philip Randall Doucette ~

75, beloved husband, father, grandfather, and devoted coach, passed away suddenly but peacefully at his home on Friday, May 26, 2023.

One of three children to the late Harold and Anamaria (Forcella) Doucette, Randy was born in Bangor, ME.

He graduated from Plainville High School in 1966 where he met the love of his life, Carmela Lepore, and settled in Burlington where they shared 52 wonderful years of marriage and raised three loving children.

A lifelong athlete, he excelled in baseball and football at Plainville High School, and continued as a wrestler for Central Connecticut State University where he earned his Bachelors and Masters Degrees in Physical Education. Affectionately known as "Coach," he went on to impact countless lives as an educator for more than 40 years at Plainville High School, challenging his students and athletes to always "work hard and keep your head in the game" in every aspect of life.

He coached several of his children's teams and was highly accomplished with the PHS swim team where he earned the CIAC Connecticut Boys Swimming Coach of the Year in 2009, and was later inducted into the Plainville High School Sports Hall of Fame in 2015.

An avid sportsman, he played hockey, enjoyed backpacking and fishing, and spent his retirement years with his family, camping, boating, gardening, woodworking, cheering on his beloved Boston Bruins, and recently leading the pickleball program for the Bristol Parks & Rec department.

A lover of animals, Randy would take dog treats with him on walks so that he could feed them to all the neighborhood dogs he saw. His passion and spirit will live on in the hearts of his family, friends, pets, and all who knew him. In addition to his wife, Carmela, he leaves his children and grandchildren who were his pride and joy, Michelle Rawcliffe, her husband, Rob and their children RJ and Rita; Craig Doucette, his wife Erin and their daughter Josephine; and Rebecca Stefanczyk, her husband Karl, and their daughter Marina. He was predeceased by his sister, Patricia Doughty. He also leaves behind his brother, James Doucette and his wife Marianne and many nieces, nephews and extended family and friends.

In lieu of flowers, contributions can be made to the American Diabetes Association, and because of Randy's love for animals, also to the Animal Rescue Foundation.

A memorial Mass will be celebrated on Thursday, June 8, 2023 at 11:00 AM at St. Gregory the Great Church, 235 Maltby St. Bristol, CT 06010. There are no calling hours and burial will be held privately. The staff at Plainville Funeral Home extends their gratitude to the Doucette family for their trust. Fond memories and expressions of sympathy may be shared at www.PlainvilleFuneralHome.com

Cooley Attends Student/ Manufacturer Connection Fair

State Rep. Francis Rexford Cooley (R-22) attended the 5th annual Student/Manufacturer Connection Fair as manufacturers and interested students come together.

This bipartisan event permits advanced manufacturers direct access to the workforce of the future. Over 500-plus students across CT will be bussed into the Capitol to meet with local small, medium, and large advanced manufacturers to learn about manufacturing, and get excited about career opportunities in their own backyard.

There were students from Plainville Middle School and Kennedy Middle School, Souhington High School, DePaolo Middle School from Southington.

"What a wonderful event and opportunity to build the education-to-career pipeline for the thousands of industry jobs that will need to be filled over the next decade," said Rep. Cooley. "Many parents and students were able to learn what coursework is needed to have a career in STEM/manufacturing and will learn how manufacturing can be a solid career that pays well and sometimes can lead to no college debt."

LET US CREATE RAINBOW SUNSETS

As the old saying goes:

The heartbeats of an unborn child synchronize with the mom. And the child becomes the nucleus of the parent's world. Time flies, roles reverse and there comes a time when the children are in the driver's seat and the parents need support.

Once upon a time, they have been our heroes, managing things wonderfully, overcoming umpteen obstacles. Now they have gracefully aged and their faculties dimmed.

But their spirit burns for love, emotional support, psychological backup, and a sense of belonging. Let us be reminded of the warmth of their hands and hold them tightly.

Let us be reminded of their unconditional love and support and be a pillar of strength in their sunset years. Let us embrace these lighthouses of wisdom and good sense wholeheartedly.

It doesn't take a fortune to do all this. It simply takes a compassionate heart and genuine concern on our part to make the seniors feel comfortable and belonged.

Keeping in mind that one day all of us will go through a similar stage, let us all be more considerate, more accepting, and more affectionate.

This all-encompassing love will simultaneously nurture them as well as us.

Setting the Facts Right in Plainville Real Estate

There is a lot of news regarding the current state of real estate, interest rates, credit scores and the projection of real estate. All of these reports discuss national trends, but it's important to understand your local community.

Myth 1: Real Estate prices will plummet.

2019 was the last full year we had pre-COVID. In Plainville, 185 single family homes closed with an average sale price of $216,000.*

In 2022, the most recent full year of sales post-COVID, 175 single family homes closed with an average sale price of $278,000*.

For Plainville, the trend has been a decline in inventory but an increase in sales prices. Real estate follows the law of supply and demand. When there are more buyers than properties, prices will rise and vice-versa.

2023 has only continued to give Plainville low inventory. If we take the number of homes closed from January 2023 through the end of April 2023 and we continue on the same trend with the same number of houses closing per month, we will only see 108 homes close in Plainville in 2023*. Yet again, we anticipate a decline in supply and that's why we remain in a Sellers market.

Myth 2: Interest Rates are Unattainable for Buyers

Interest rates have risen, but with the projected rise in sales prices, Buyers are locking down homes now and planning to refinance in the future. Buyers are also weighing out the financial benefits of owning rather than competing with the rising cost of rents. The rapid increase in rents has significantly attributed to the supply and demand issue.

Myth 3: Buyers with Higher Credit Scores will Be Penalized

There are some fee changes for strictly conventional loans. However, homebuyers with higher credit scores will still pay lower fees than someone with a lower credit score. FHA, VA, and CHFA loans, loans that are most commonly used by first-time homebuyers, will not have this affect them.

ANNUAL MEETING

PLAINVILLE HISTORICAL SOCIETY SATURDAY, JUNE 3 @ 2 O'CLOCK HISTORIC CENTER

ALL MEMBERS

There is always something new, about something old, at the Historic Center Research Room. We discovered a box of professional photographer's prints, in stunning black and white, of vintage homes in Plainville. There was no note explaining the original purpose of them, the person behind the camera, and no addresses attached. But they were like the mother lode of the past to us, and they caught the attention of our historic homes specialist volunteer, Lucie. She loves old houses and she lives in one-- in Plainville.

Our plan is to post a picture of one house (or more) each month. If you recognize the house, all we need is the address. You can remain anonymous. Leave a message on our land line or at our e-mail address. If you are familiar with the house, and so-inclined, we would love some fun facts about it. We will add the house to our growing files of vintage homes for future reference, to delight future generations of researchers.

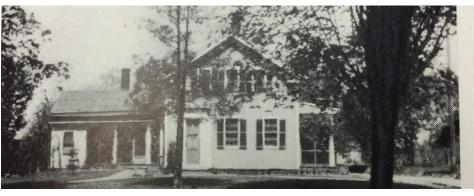

Our Research Room is available to you during Historical Society office hours or by special appointment. You never know what you might find.

DID YOU KNOW? ... That a house more than 75 years old in Plainville cannot be demolished unless the Historical Society is duly notified. Then Lucie does a search to assess whether the property has any historical significance. We still mourn the Trumbull

... That the Charles Norton house, on East Main St. -- a known stop on the Underground Railroad in the 1800s-- was destroyed and replaced by a commercial building. What? Don't know what the Underground Railroad was? Our Plainville African-American History Specialist, Gail Williams, could explain.

Historical Society Program on Connecticut Architecture

Christopher Wigren, the author of Connecticut Architecture: Stories of 100 Places. The book is a fascinating account of our state's architecture. As Mary Donohue from the State Historic Preservation Office said "Wigren weaves together the stories of Connecticut's peoples across over 300 years of building. With his deep grasp of existing research and the buildings recognized on the National Register of Historic Places, he provides both the scholar and day trip enthusiast with a list of places to visit." the author highlighted a number of the 100 sites including Plainville Campgrounds with its gingerbread style cottages.

OUR MAY PROGRAM

The little spring sprinkling of rain didn't dampen the spirits of our audience on Wednesday, May 24 as we welcomed Christopher Wigren from the Connecticut Trust for Historic Preservation; author of Connecticut Architecture, Stories of 100 places in Connecticut. We were delighted with his presentation and especially with special attention paid to the history of the Plainville Camp Grounds.

The atmosphere was reminiscent of graduation rites; a learned collegiate speaker, the sharing of interesting historical information about our buildings, the message promoting appreciation of the lovely old buildings in our daily life and the challenge and mission to preserve them for the future.

PLAINVILLE HISTORY

Remembering... The neighborhood grocer

Daily life was so different in Plainville in the 1920s when electric refrigeration was budding, only some families had one car and women didn't drive. New homes had back door entry areas where the ice man serviced an icebox. Perishables needed to be replenished often and pantry supplies were purchased at a neighborhood market close to home, often reached on foot. Some made deliveries, by wagon, to private homes and some even had trucks. Many grocery stores functioned as mini general stores, stocking household items necessary but not edible.

Nick Broczkowski at North Washington Market actually had gas pumps. He also stocked kerosene for customers who still used it to fuel lamps. His daughter, Helen, weekly delivered a metal container of kerosene to an elderly lady who lived a ways down the road toward Farmington, on foot. Talk about personal service.

If you did get to the store, the clerk would put a brown paper bag on the counter and proceed to retrieve each item you chose and write the price down on the bag with a pencil. When your order was complete, he would tally it up, in his head and write down the total; you would pay and then he put your stuff in the paper bag and you would leave with your groceries and your receipt on the outside of your bag.

With the advent of the Super Market in the 1940s and the arrival of the First National Store to downtown Plainville, shopping carts and more automobiles, everything changed.

The only vestige that remains of this era is, of course, our Gnazzo's. Still at Broad and East, it is Plainville's own historical grocer. And we are so very lucky to have the Gnazzo family who continue to maintain a tradition of community vibe and personal service.

Small Business On The Great Plain

By: Gertrude LaCombe

The first settlers to the new world sought to find suitable land on which to farm and build their homes and raise a family. Farmers became the first small business men as they raised their own food and or specialized in a commodity that could be sold or bartered for money to provide for their families.

Fertile land near a river was most desired for a settler to accomplish this goal. Rivers could provide the property with power, food and transportation. It was Thomas Hooker who established Hartford on the Connecticut River. Within a few years the new settlers began to reach out to land areas beyond and purchased a large parcel of land from the local Tunxis Tribe. The Town of Farmington was established in December of 1645 with 5 acre lots laid out along the Farmington River and parts of the Great Plain.

No interest was taken in the Great Plain until the late 1600's when a group looked into the White Oak area with the Great Pond (Hamlin's Pond) the headwaters of the Quinnipiac River. By 1740 most of the Great Plain area that we now know as Plainville had been laid out and farming families were able to purchase land around another river known as the Pequabuck where the town's center eventually developed.

Small business began to abound to meet the needs of these new families. The millers damned the rivers to produce power for grinding the farmers grain. The Cooke family farm in the White Oak Area provided lodging and a blacksmith to repair carriages along the New Haven to Hartford Highway (Rt.10). Broad St. was built West off the highway and became the main road to Bristol over Red Stone Hill. Small businessmen built farms and in home businesses along Broad St. such as tin maker Uri Bishop. As the population grew Farmington built the West District school and meeting house at the intersection of Broad and Washington Streets to serve the local farming community.

The town didn't grow much until the Farmington Canal was built in 1828 when the Whiting brothers took the Great Plain by storm and built two canal basins. These business entrepreneurs built buildings and two basins on Farmington Ave. and on Main St. to accommodate the canal boat travelers and to ship products made by local farmers and businessmen. Even after the demise of the canal the new railroad played a great part in our population growth and development as we became a town in 1869.

When the Plainville Knitting Mill was built over the canal basin many businesses started growing along West Main St. and Whiting St. to serve the developing town. At the time of the industrial revolution and World Wars small businesses started to pop up all over town to serve families away from the center. Small grocery stores such as Tom Maskery's, and the Chapor family on West Main St. Berardy's store was popular after school at Broad and Washington St. and Hurlburt's store at the corner of West Main and Bohemia is where my Mom would send me to pick up a loaf of bread for

There were also many home delivery and mobile entrepreneurs such as Roger's Bakery, the vegetable man, the milk man and the rag man calling out "Cash paid for rags."

Small business made our town what it is today open and friendly to all.

Paws & Property: Over 93k Pets Living Illegally in Rented Homes Across Connecticut

Bv Kacv Bomer

Study Finds: 82% of pet owners would be willing to pay an additional fee to keep them. Half of renters are put off pet ownership due to the challenges they would have keeping them. Interactive map map showing the number of illegal pets in each state. Having a pet, and renting a property, poses challenges. Landlords are often reluctant to allow them - barking, shredded cushions, scratched furniture being some of the reasons. But figures show that 86 million households own a pet - and also that 1 in 3 of them rent. Ergo, this must mean that there are a lot of renters out there who live with their pet in someone else's property - but how many of them have actually declared them to their landlord?

AgentAdvice.com wanted to find out, and surveyed 3,000 pet owning tenants. They first discovered that 18% of them had kept the existence of Buddy quiet equating to about 7.7 million pets across the country. That's a lot of barking to try and cough over, or scratched table legs to try and cover up. In Connecticut, 20% of pet-owning renters admit to not disclosing this to their landlords (equating to 93,085 illegal pets).

Rental Ruff: Renters have it tough enough as it is, with landlords always having the upper hand in the situation, so it seems a shame that pets are often not made to feel welcome in a rented property. However, given the choice, the survey found that 82% of pet owners would be willing to pay an additional fee to keep their furry friend in the rental property with them - the extra cost could quite easily be used to make any repairs to anything that was damaged. And when it comes to how much people would be willing to pay on top of their rent, the average amount was $375.69.

Tenant Tails: Not all neighbors would be put off by the fact someone next door had Early spring, and the wild animals that hibernate are returning to our a pet, either; AgentAdvice.com also asked hypothetically whether, "if your property renewal was coming up and someone new was moving in with a dog, would you consider finding somewhere else to live?" Only 26% said yes, suggesting that the vast majority of Nutmeggers are actually pet-friendly. The research also revealed that two thirds thought it was fair for landlords to ask tenants to leave the property if it turned out they had pets which were not permitted. But sadly, the challenge of finding a rental property which allows pets discourages 58% of people from getting a pet if they are renters.

"Caring for a pet is a responsibility that requires commitment and dedication, yet Did you know that you can adopt an animal from the Plainville pound on the current rental market often makes it challenging for pet owners to find suitable Granger Lane? When you choose to consider our animals, you can rest and affordable accommodations. Discriminatory pet policies and limited pet-friendly assured that it has had its shots up-to-date and has been neutered. While in options not only place an undue burden on renters, but also deny them the joy and AgentAdvice.com have provided 4 tips for convincing your landlord to allow you

- 1. Talk to Your Landlord Getting permission to have a pet as a renter can be difficult as landlords may include a "No Pets" clause in the lease to maintain control over how many pets are in their properties. Many landlords will make exceptions for excellent tenants who are positive contributors to the rental community.
- 2. Be Flexible To convince your landlord to allow a pet in your rental, it's important to be flexible with your pet choices. However, if you have a good relationship with your landlord, it's possible they may make exceptions for a responsible and reliable tenant. So don't be afraid to have a conversation about the possibility of bringing in
- 3. Providing Documentation If you're a pet owner looking to move into a new rental property, providing additional documentation can help show your landlord that you're a responsible pet owner. This may include a letter from your current landlord, vet records, training records, and spay/neuter records. By demonstrating that your pet is well-behaved and non-disruptive, you can alleviate any concerns your landlord may have about potential property damage or disturbance to other renters.
- 4. Offer to Pay More To convince your landlord to allow a pet, offering to pay extra in the form of a deposit or monthly charge can show that you are committed to being a responsible pet owner. While some pet-friendly rentals have upfront policies regarding deposits or rent surcharges, it's possible to convince some landlords who don't allow pets to make exceptions if you offer to pay extra. However, pet deposits can be expensive, so be sure to have the necessary budget before making the offer.
